RELOCATION OF NUMBER 28 IN SANTA COLOMA

Losada begs that «the problem of the four families can be closed soon»

The minor consul adds that the deadline will not be extended, but that they will not be abandoned

With just five days until the Municipality of Andorra la Vella stops assuming the costs of rehousing the residents of number 28 in Santa Coloma, there are still four families without a home. On this matter, the minor consul of the capital, Olalla Losada, who appeared last Monday in a tribute act in Rebés Square in memory of its founder, Bartomeu Rebés Duran, was asked.

Losada was questioned with a question about the complex situation of building number 28 in Santa Coloma, which had, until now, 11 families waiting to find a home. The junior consul wanted to emphasize that «they are now only with four affected families, who hope to be able to close shortly». In addition, Losada emphasized the fact that the Department of Social Affairs has already taken charge of following each particular case, trying to redirect each one to the Government aid department so that they can be helped to find possible places to live, as well as supporting each one. «While we wait for the completion of the reform of your home, we trust that this problem can be solved», exclaimed the consul of the capital.

In fact, the rehabilitation works of building number 28 are already underway and, according to the corporation's plans, it is most likely that they will last until September or October. In the case regarding a possible extension of the deadline established for the Municipality of Andorra la Vella to stop paying the costs of rehousing its neighbors, Losada made it clear that «it would not be fair for the families who have already found a place». In this sense, the junior consul recalled that they already tried to give one more month of the deadline, but that the residents themselves know how far it can go. This is an aspect to be taken into account, pointed out the consul, «so that there are no misunderstandings with families who are not in the

«We continue with four families who have not found a place. The Department of Social Affairs has been following each case to support each family»

«It would not be fair to postpone the date of June 30th for the families who have already found a space. We tried to give one more month than the established deadline» buildings paid for by the municipalities of the families who are just finding these spaces», she clarified. Finally, Losada emphasized that while waiting to see whether or not the budgets that have been offered suit them, «they don't think they will end up finding a place». In the same way, the junior consul of Andorra la Vella regretted, «feeling it very much», the situation experienced by these families and wanted to emphasize that «no one will be left helpless, the Government will help them. There are protocols, but not from the Municipalities», said Losada. ●

Sweet balance of the capital's Festival and change of Rebés Square

The minor consul, Olalla Losada, celebrates the success of the festival and the square changes its name

Last Monday, a double celebration event took place in Rebés Square in Andorra la Vella, since, on the one hand, the junior consul of Andorra la Vella, Olalla Losada, confirmed the success of the capital's Festival and, at the same time, the renaming of Rebés Square was carried out.

Losada appeared first to attend the microphones of the media to point out that the balance of the Festival in the capital had been very good: «We are very happy with the attendance, we thought it would cost a little due to the fact that it was a long-weekend». Despite the circumstance, a total of 700 portions of rice were served to the residents and visitors of Andorra la Vella. In addition, the consul remarked that «the workshops have been full and 80 people have completed the family circuit».

Regarding possible improvements to the festival, Losada wanted to point out that it could have been better organized by enabling more diverse spaces so that the square «was fuller». On the other hand, and following the same line, the juni-

Twining between Andorra la Vella and Viana do Castelo in the visit to the Municipality

►► This Monday was also marked in the capital for the arrival of the equivalent of the minor consul of the Portuguese city, Manuel Vitorino. For this reason, the junior consul, Olalla Losada, emphasized that this twining «makes sense, considering that a lot of the population of the parish is from Viana do Castelo». In addition, Losada stated that tomorrow, Wednesday, this approach will be officially signed or consul expressed that it was not the best idea to use a small space to engage an audience that was «neither old nor childish», and that with the inclusion of some food trucks could have been improved.

Apart from this, the event was also the center of the renaming of Rebés Square, «to give recognition to the figure who promoted the entire cultural theme», highlighted Losada. Thus, the act of tribute in Bartomeu Rebés Duran square (from now on) was collected in honor and at the request of his family, «since he was a philanthropist concerned with promoting the culture of the parish», the junior consul stood out. Finally, Losada said that it is «fair» to attribute his name. ●
